

Doris Cordevant, CMI, serves as the Senior Manager of State & Local Indirect Tax at Emerson, where she is responsible for overseeing sales/use and property tax compliance, managing state tax credits, addressing nexus issues, and handling indirect tax audits. Doris specializes in multi-state transactional and property tax matters and provides guidance on indirect tax issues related to mergers and acquisitions.

In the international tax area, Doris has focused on implementing global transfer pricing policies and related income tax compliance and reporting, working with a global team to manage Emerson's global statutory compliance obligations.

A key part of her work involves designing and implementing change-management projects aimed at driving value, mitigating risk, and improving processes within her organization. Doris has a strong interest in tax technology and actively works to streamline and automate processes to enhance efficiency and accuracy in tax operations.
