Professional Experience:

Amber Rutherford is a licensed attorney in the state of Tennessee with over seventeen years of experience with corporate and pass-through multistate controversy, tax consulting, and compliance matters, including authoring technical memos, representing taxpayers at informal conferences with state revenue departments, and assisting taxpayers with state tax modeling and planning. As a member of the Washington National Tax Multistate group, Amber is involved in a myriad of projects, including managing the internal review process for tax technical alerts, articles, and presentations.

Amber specializes in and regularly speaks on complex state and local tax matters in Kansas, Kentucky, Mississippi, and Tennessee, states for whom she serves as a Jurisdictional Technical Lead. Amber has also co-authored several articles published in Tax Notes State. Prior to joining Deloitte, Amber worked as a hearing officer at the Tennessee Department of Revenue.

Amber is active in the local community as well. She is a member of both the Lawyers' Association for Women, Marion Griffin Chapter, and the Tennessee Bar Association.
