Matt is a partner in the St. Louis office of Thompson Coburn LLP. He represents taxpayers before Missouri and Illinois state and local taxing authorities in income, sales/use, property, and other state and local tax (SALT) controversies. Matt has successfully resolved SALT controversies from audits, refund claims, and assessments through appeals, and has experience in all facets of SALT litigation. He has represented clients before the Missouri Administrative Hearing Commission, the Missouri State Tax Commission and local Boards of Equalization, as well as the Illinois Independent Tax Tribunal and the Illinois Informal Conference Board. He has also handled appeals before Supreme Court of Missouri, the Illinois Supreme Court, the Missouri and Illinois Courts of Appeal, and the United States Courts of Appeal for the Seventh and Eighth Circuits.

Matt is a Fellow of the American College of Tax Counsel (ACTC), a member of the Executive Committees of the American Bar Association (ABA) Section of Taxation State and Local Taxes Committee and National Association of State Bar Tax Sections (NASBTS), Chair of the Institute for Professionals in Taxation (IPT) St. Louis Local Luncheon Group Committee, and Chair of the ABA/IPT Advanced State Income Tax Seminar Committee.
