

Robert Patterson Bio – Paul J. Hartman 2021 – Pandemic Pandemonium

Microsoft's Worldwide Tax and Trade Controller, Robert Patterson, works across all corporate teams and engages the Company's external auditor, to ensure internal control over financial reporting amongst all functional areas (e.g., Tax Provision, Int'l Tax, Treasury Tax, M&A Tax, SALT, Alternative Tax, Employment Tax, Trade Exports, Trade Customs, Trade Sanctions, Tax and Trade Technology).

Academically, Robert holds a Bachelor of Business Administration in Finance from Pacific Lutheran University (WA); Golden Gate University, the Master of Science in Taxation (CA); M.B.A. in Finance and Accounting from Morehead State University (KY); Master of Science in Operations Management from the University of Arkansas-Fayetteville (AR); Graduate Certificate in State & Local Taxation from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee (WI); Studied law at Washburn University's School of Law (KS) and holds a Doctorate in Education from the University of New England (ME).