

Barbara G. Coulter

State and Local Tax Partner

PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP, Atlanta, GA

(770) 312-4459

Barbara.coulter@pwc.com

Barbara joined PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP in February of 2005 and is a State and Local Tax Partner in the Atlanta office. Barbara has over twenty-five years of experience in addressing state and local income and franchise tax issues for both public and private companies. Her focus is on multi-state corporate restructuring, mergers & acquisitions, state tax controversy, state and local tax planning, income tax refund reviews, state tax compliance and tax accounting. Her experience and expertise covers a widespread range of market sectors, including, but not limited to, manufacturing, consumer products, retail, aerospace and defense, hospitality, financial services, airlines, trucking/transportation and mining.

Barbara is a frequent speaker on state and local tax issues for professional continuing education programs, including Council on State Taxation and Tax Executives Institute.

Barbara obtained a B.S. in Accounting from Bob Jones University and her Masters in Taxation from Georgia State University. She maintains an active CPA license in Georgia and is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.